

WILL THERE STILL BE SINGING? A Hanns Eisler Cabaret

LIMITED SEATING
ORDER YOUR TICKETS NOW!

IN CELEBRATION OF ERIC BENTLEY'S 100TH BIRTHDAY

KARYN LEVITT with ERIC OSTLING and the HANNS EISLER TRIO

perform songs of HANNS EISLER with words by BERTOLT BRECHT

in English versions by ERIC BENTLEY

at the METROPOLITAN ROOM in New York City

Saturday, October 15th, 2016 at 1 pm

Saturday, November 5th, 2016 at 1 pm

Monday, January 9th, 2017 at 7 pm

For tickets go to <http://metropolitanroom.com/event.cfm?id=241115>

or call 212-206-0440

Metropolitan Room 34 W 22nd St NYC 10010

WILL THERE STILL BE SINGING? A HANNS EISLER CABARET

“Karyn Levitt is doing something which, to my ears, is new. She allows (these songs) to bloom and be beautiful in a way which is undoubtedly musically expressive.”

—IRVING WARDLE, MUSIC CRITIC OF THE LONDON TIMES

TICKETS ARE AVAILABLE ONLINE AT

<http://metropolitanroom.com/event.cfm?id=241115>

OR BY CALLING 212-206-0440

Come explore the musical treasures of Hanns Eisler—the gifted Austro-German composer who was Schoenberg's student, Kurt Weill's contemporary, and Bertolt Brecht's favorite collaborator—with soprano Karyn Levitt and pianist/musical director Eric Ostling leading The Hanns Eisler Trio (including world-renowned accordionist William Schimmel and famed guitarist Ira Siegel.) The program is performed in English and German.

ABOUT HANNS EISLER

While many are familiar with Bertolt Brecht's other frequent collaborator, Kurt Weill, Austro-German composer Hanns Eisler and his work has been largely unfamiliar to popular audiences in America. Eisler, the first of Arnold Schoenberg's disciples to compose in the twelve-tone method, moved to Berlin in 1925 where he developed a more “popular” musical style, and forged a collaboration with Bertolt Brecht which lasted for the rest of Brecht's life.

Come hear KARYN LEVITT's pre-concert lecture for the BROOKLYN ART SONG SOCIETY's presentaion of Eisler's Hollywood Liederbuch

Friday, November 4th, 2016 at 7:30 pm

<http://brooklynartsongsociety.org/upcoming/>

Brooklyn Art Song Society events are held at the Brooklyn Historical Society 128 Pierrepont St, Brooklyn, NY 11201

For booking information, contact Royal Road Productions, Inc.
info@royalroadproductions.com www.royalroadproductions.com